This summer the Church Law Society launched new website in Czech. With great pleasure, we announce that from the 25th August 2018 the English version of this website is accessible at <http://spcp.prf.cuni.cz/en>. The visitors of English website will also find the Church Law Society's membership application in the section Membership, which can be sent right after filling it. The former website served us well for almost twenty years. By the 1st June 2018, the Czech website was visited 98.425 times and the English version was visited 2.085 times from abroad. The former website is still accessible from the new website, when you click on the Old Website link.

Law and Christianity Book Series

We would like to inform you about Law and Christianity Book Series, which is published by Cambridge University Press and edited by Professor John Witte Jr. from Emory University School of Law in Atlanta, Georgia, USA.

From New Publications

BAIR, J., REES, W. (eds.), Staatlich eingetragene religiöse Bekenntnisgemeinschaften in Österreich, Innsbruck University Press, Innsbruck, 2018, 308 pp., ISBN 978-3-903187-21-4.

HRDINA, Ignác Antonín, SZABO, Miloš, Teorie kanonického práva [Canon Law Theory], Karolinum Press, Prague, 2018, 460 pp., ISBN 9788024639192.

Boletín Jurídico: Observatorio de libertad religiosa de América Latina y El Caribe

We have just received July 2018 issue of the Chilean Journal Boletín Jurídico, which is published by Facultad de Derecho de Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile, Centro Derecho y Religión.

It contains the legislation (including the drafts) and the case law of many South American countries. The Journal itself brings new information on religion law in the Latin America and the Caribbean. We recommend it to anyone interested in these topics. The Buletin is published by Dr. Ana María Celis Brunet and René Cortínez C., S. J.
